Dear Los Angeles City Council and Department of Water and Power: Los Angeles is too dependent on old and dirty coal-fired power plants that pollute the environment, harm our climate, and fail to provide economic opportunities for Angelenos. I ask you to develop a plan to end our use of coal by 2020 and replace that coal with clean energy.Rather than funding out-of-state coal companies, we should invest in energy efficiency and rooftop solar that create family wage jobs and minimize rising electric costs by helping people use energy more efficiently.
